PEOPLE WILL EAT

It's as fashionable for the human family to eat milk toast and other dainties in Summer as Winter.

But with the finny tribe it is different. Trout are not permitted to indulge in Griswold's dainty artificial bait but a short period of the year.

Just now their mouths are watering for our flies.

When they are hankering for something good to eat is the time to twitch them bald-headed and fill your basket until it stops over.

Now is the time you will find the finest selected stock of Fish Provisions we have ever shown. It's more blessed to fish than to eat.
